

A Typical Day on Tour

spyns

Each group of 18-20 will have two guides: one guide will ride and the second will drive. What follows is a breakdown of a typical morning, noon, and evening:

MORNING: Depending on your hotel, breakfast is normally served between 7:30 and 10:00. Your guides will be on hand to review the day's activities for both riders and non-riders. Riders generally depart between 9:30 or 10:00 with the non-riders departing shortly thereafter. For the riders, you will have complete route instructions and maps. You can choose to ride with one of two guides or go it alone. Vans will sweep the route for riders needing a changed tire or a shuttle to the next meeting point.

NOON: The groups will stop for a cafe lunch or picnic. Before departure, your guides will let you know whether this lunch is included or at your charge. Lunch normally lasts at least an hour after which you can choose to finish the day's ride or non-riding activity or shuttle back to your hotel for some rest & relaxation.

EVENING: Spyns will host a pre-dinner cocktail party. Dinners usually start around 7:30 or 8:00 and last 3-4 hours. Dress is normally casual-dressy. Stick around for post-dinner drinks or get a good nights sleep for the next day's activities.

Did you know?

On a Spyns tour, we move your bags for you. They'll magically travel from hotel to hotel.

We're the only company that provides a full non-riding itinerary.

You can always ride at your own pace. We don't run competitive rides so you can do as little or as much riding as you want.
